Design Clinic Scheme

Design Clinic Scheme for MSMEs (DCS-MSMEs) 300 DAS

The Design Clinic Scheme for MSMEs (DCS-MSMEs) is a Government sponsored Design promotion initiative undertaken by the Central Government to infuse design sensitisation among the Indian Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs). The Scheme is a part of National Manufacturing Competitiveness Programme (NMCP) to enhance the manufacturing capabilities of micro, small and medium enterprises through Design Intervention strategies. The Scheme is being implemented across the country through (i) Design Awareness Seminars (DAS), Design Awareness Programme (DAP) and Design Projects (DP). This booklet gives highlights of statistical analysis in graphical form supported by textual representation, to provide a glimpse of the impact created among the MSME fraternity through design sensitization and awareness seminars.

Foreword

I am indeed happy that the Design Clinic Scheme is again coming out with another booklet, ENHANCING MSME CAPABILITIES THROUGH DESIGN INTERVENTION as a compilation of impact the 300-odd Design Awareness Seminars (DASs) amongst the MSME clusters Pan-India.

The current booklet shows the Scheme's commitment towards bettering the capabilities of the Indian MSMEs, which is in desperate need for scaling up in the value-addition chain of products and services through design intervention, for a better global market share. The Scheme focuses on the need of establishing brand India products from the Indian Industries for the global market and take forward the MAKE IN INDIA initiatives. Towards this, Design can play a vital role in creating strategies for the Indian Industry. This is all the more significant in the context of MSMEs in general comprise the maximum footprint in terms of productivity and a major earner of foreign exchange for the country.

I indeed feel privileged to release this booklet on the occasion of the 5th anniversary of the Scheme. We have been fortunate to have unstinted support and guidance of one and all officials of the Ministry of MSME in taking forward and in successful implementation of the Scheme. My congratulations to all the members of the team who toiled hard to achieve the targets. The current compilation not only highlights the efforts on design sensitisation of all stake holders but will also help in forecast of the immense possibilities the initiative offer for taking the Scheme activities to newer heights.

Message from Project Head

The Design Clinic Scheme for MSMEs (DCS-MSMEs) has become a pillar of strength for the Indian MSMEs, who have shown their desire to move forward on the global footprint for quality products and services. The Scheme is appreciated across the country by one and all. One of the main reason attributed to this success is the team efforts and the dedicated support received from all stakeholders.

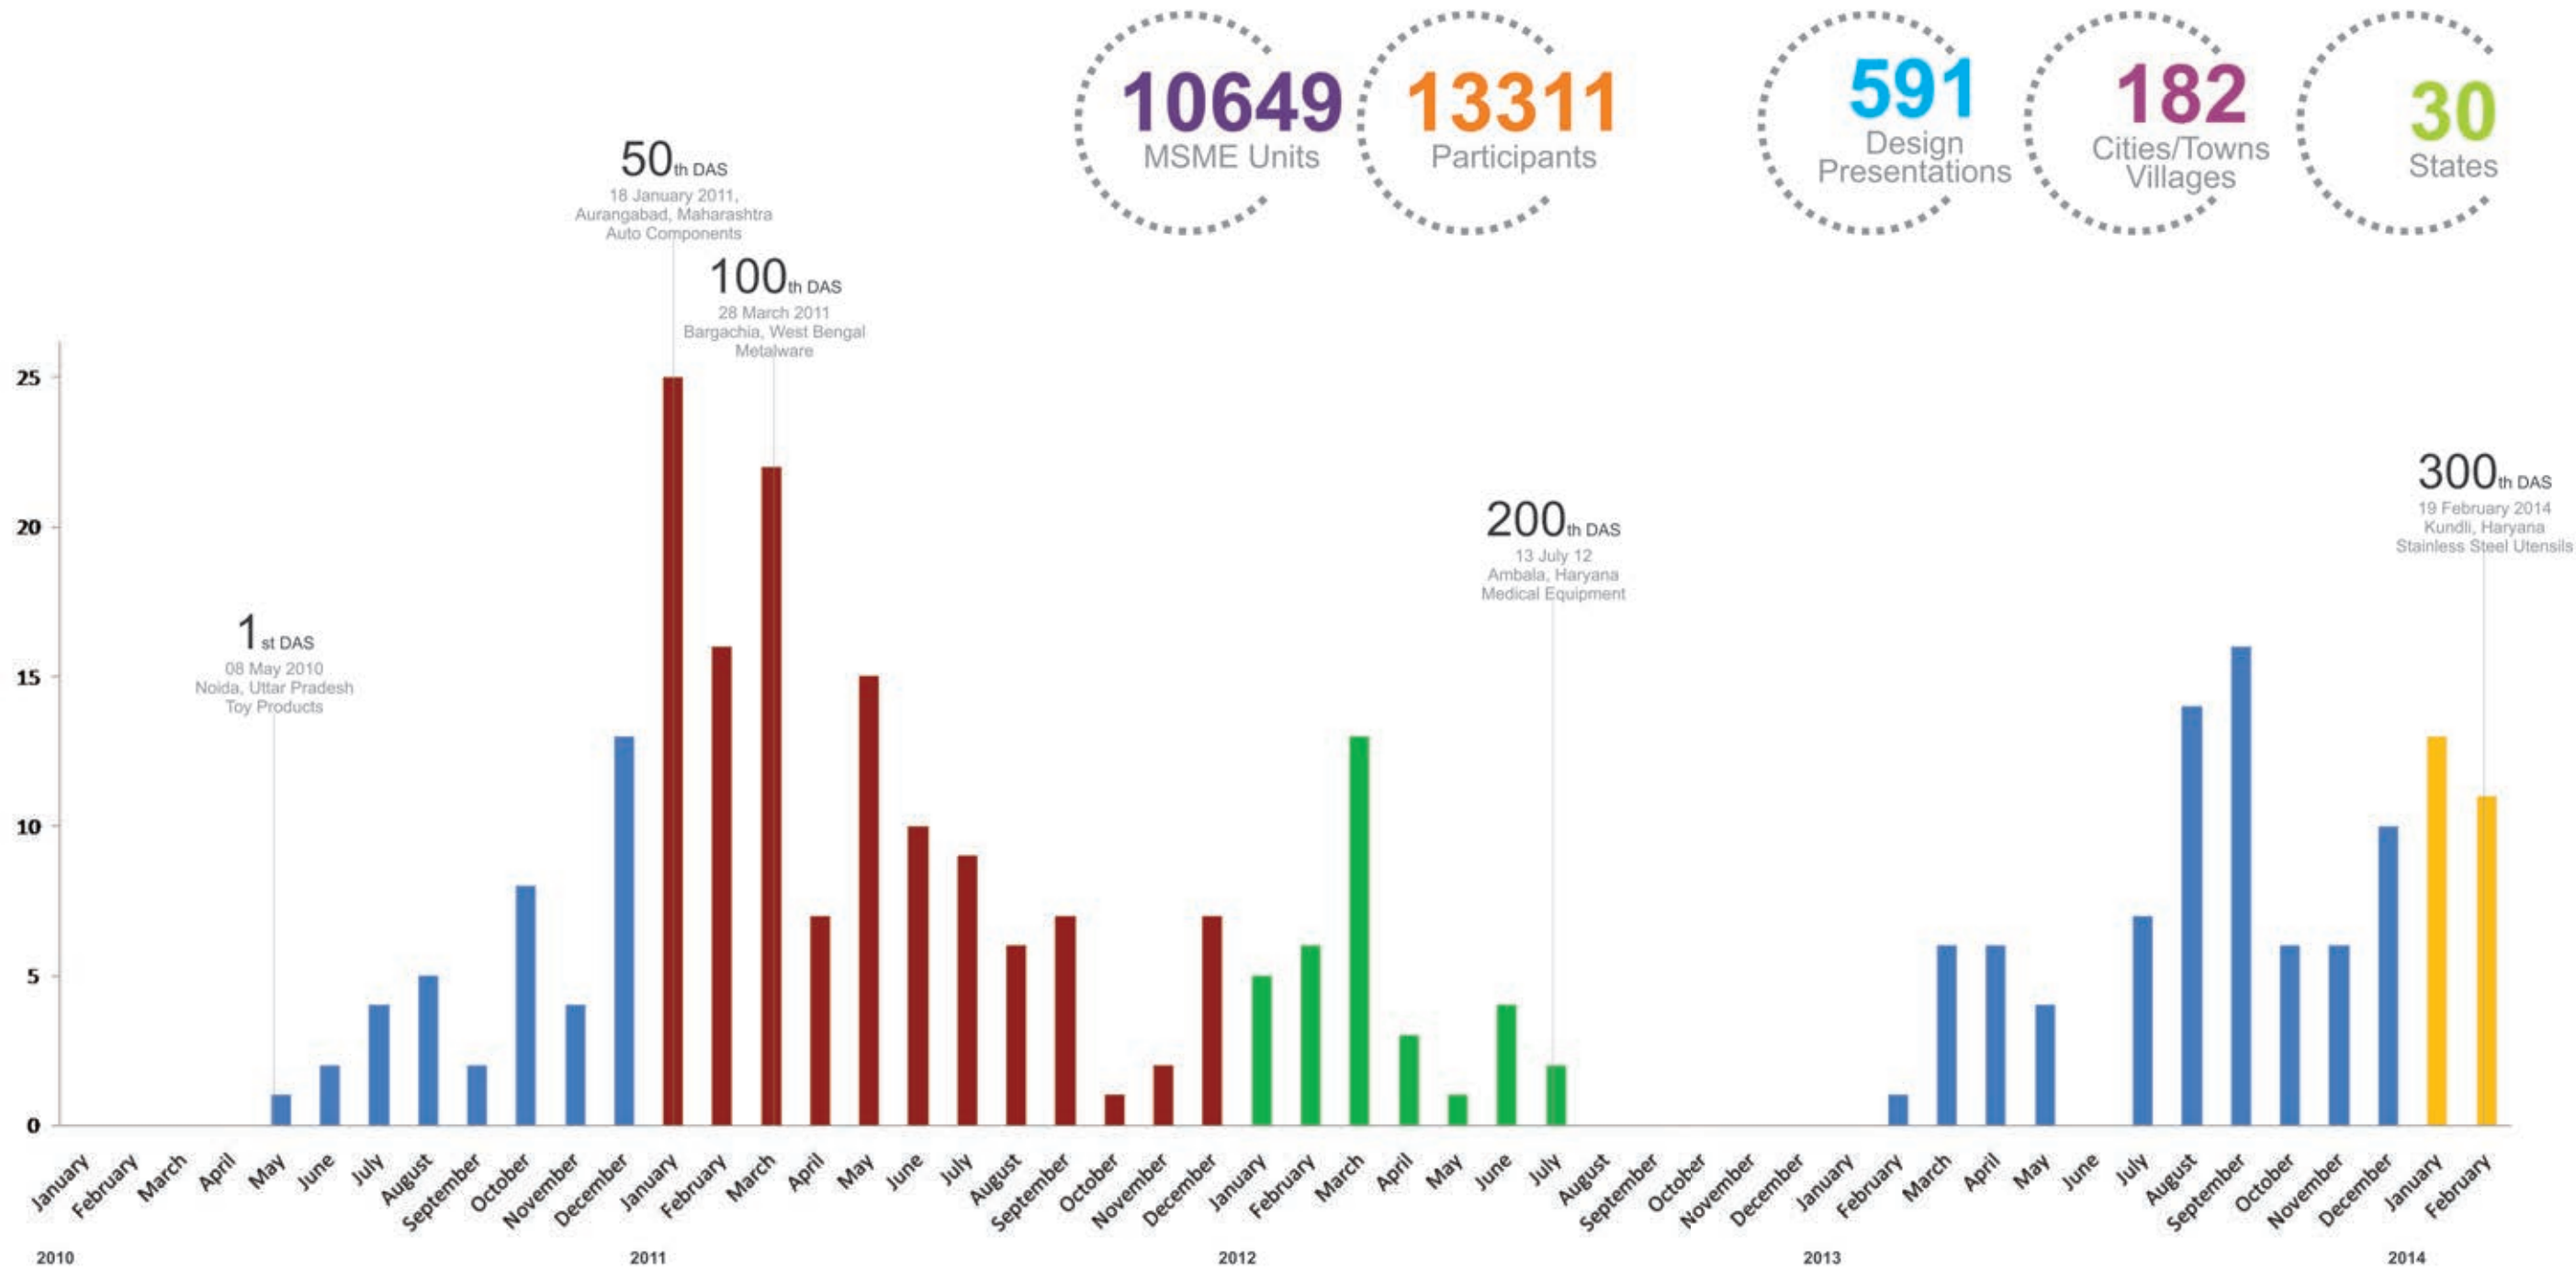

This is an ambitious Scheme fraught with difficult targets and challenges in reaching out to the MSMEs across the country and convince them to go in for various design intervention strategies for value addition to products and quality upgradation to meet both national and global demands. Our efforts towards these directions have been quite effective that we have been able to achieve the targets amidst several challenges. The present booklet is a testament of the whole-hearted support received from MSME Associations, MSME Units, State Governments and Non-Governments bodies and their organisations and the Designer community in particular in realizing the objectives of the scheme and achieving the targets, which is expected to influence the country's economy as a whole, given the large scale presence and contribution of MSMEs.

The current compilation is in form of an analytical booklet made based on the impact that 300 Design Awareness Seminars (DASs) have created, among the Indian MSMEs across the country. The booklet is expected to serve as an eye opener for the Indian MSMEs and the design fraternity to take advantage of the benefits of the Scheme by leveraging design competency in the form of globally acceptable quality products and services.
